About This Game

Eidolon is a game about exploring a mysterious landscape and uncovering the stories of the people who lived there once before. It is a game about history, curiosity, interconnectedness, and the slow and inevitable beauty of life.

You will be dropped into the dreary and mystical Western Washington circa 2400 c.e. with little to guide your way. Awaiting you is a vast landscape filled with wildlife, edible plants, and the memories of our now-dead culture—stored in artefacts such as journals, sketchbooks, newspapers, zines, brochures, transcripts, blogs, and more. Collect these memories and piece together what happened to these people.

Features:

- Over 150 documents telling the interconnected stories of dozens of characters across hundreds of years.
- An enormous, hand-sculpted Western Washington that takes multiple hours to cross.
- Day/night cycle and dynamic weather.
- Varied flora and fauna (both predators and prey).

MAC USERS: Please read system requirements carefully!

It's been half a moon since we left our block in the storm & shadow of war. We've avoided trackers & guards, & all possible danger lies now ahead of us instead of behind, & so finally we come to rest for more than a few hours.

We take this journey together for the hol of the old town, the town they call us heretics. I, Alka Karko, keep this diary as proof in the case of my & my companion forr Holan's collar being taken by the great slark will be through from unmaternal. We come prepared for all things knowable, forr a trained hunter & myself a learned apprentice of the Colial Father. However, but the myth we track are many and we understand them only a little.

These small ruins seem different up close, but haven't illuminated the stories we come to pursue, at least not on the short break we've taken so far. Forr fear, they're still, or hunters are like to, but that's why both of us needed each other. The hunter's fear makes the ruins safe shelter for us, so our garrison there then was necessary, & my hope is that our time in these small places will prepare forr to enter their great skeletal leviathan seen from afar on long winter hunts. Surely their hearts will hold our answers. We've cut north and east so far to avoid trackers, but now we head west to find the leviathan.

the exterior today, I saw Fall SALE often in faded paint on an old car. Don't know if it was because of the fight I had the truck or what, but that car triggered... I knocked on the doors of nearby parties until I found the owner, and by me, it was still up for sale. And I'd afford it, easy. Went back home with mission, sold back the majority share of HZ, packed up as much stuff as would fit in my backpack, satchel, and pockets, and left Bellevue. Hopefully for good. I'm riding this in my sparkin' new (tho a bit assy) sedan.
